GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

At all times material to this Indictment:

CLERK U.S. DISTRICT COURT
WEST. DIST. OF PENNSYLVANIA

1. The defendants, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI and SCOTT A. ROSKOVSKI, were married and resided at 102 Dogwood Court, Butler, Pennsylvania 16001.
2. Butler Health System was located in Butler, Pennsylvania, and operated Butler Healthcare Providers, d/b/a Butler Memorial Hospital (hereinafter "BHS"). BHS provided healthcare services to residents of Butler, Pennsylvania, and the surrounding region.
3. The defendant, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI, was an employee of BHS, serving as the Vice President for Outpatient Services from May 2007 to April 2012, and as the Chief Operating Officer ("COO") from April 2012, until her termination in August 2017, during which time she reported directly to the Chief Executive Officer ("CEO").
4. As the COO, the defendant, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI, was part of an administrative team of 10 or more directors/vice presidents. Her responsibilities included management over the hospital and physician division of operations and working with the Board of Directors, other members of management, and the medical staff to develop and implement strategic plans, budgets, and policies relating to enhancing revenue, reducing costs, and achieving improved performance.

5. BHS maintained two checking accounts, in the name of Butler Memorial Hospital (hereinafter "BMH"), from which expenses were paid, one at NexTier Bank (NexTier), account number xxxx8644, and another at Branch Banking and Trust Company (BB&T), account number xxxx6062.

6. BHS provided each of the directors with individual corporate credit cards, that is, VISA credit cards in their individual names from NexTier, to be used for business-related expenditures. The defendant, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI, maintained a BHS provided VISA corporate credit card, with associated account numbers xxxx4725, xxxx4440, xxxx2880, and xxxx9380.

7. BHS received a combined monthly VISA credit card statement by mail, along with individual statements for each employee/cardholder. The master statement contained transactions for all cardholders, and was paid immediately to avoid late fees and interest charges. BHS distributed the associated, individual statements and required each cardholder to attach receipts or other documentation to verify that the expenses were business-related. Cardholders incurring personal expenses on the corporate VISA were required to identify and reimburse BHS for said personal expenditures.

8. BHS reimbursed employees, to include the defendant, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI, for the use of a personal credit card or other monies for business-related expenditures. The BHS accounting department disbursed funds by check, issued from either the BHS checking account maintained at NexTier or at BB&T, reimbursing such an expenditure, only after the employee provided documentation establishing its business-related nature and obtained their supervisor's approval. Said checks were ordinarily mailed via U.S. First Class Mail directly to the requesting employee.

9. BHS issued checks made payable to third-party vendors for expenditures made by the defendant, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI, for business-related purposes. The accounting department disbursed funds by check, issued from the BHS checking account maintained at NexTier Bank or BB&T, after the defendant provided documentation establishing the expenditure's business-related purpose and upon the CEO's approval. Said checks were provided directly to the defendant, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI, mailed via U.S. First Class Mail directly to a third-party vendor, or hand-delivered by a BHS employee, at the defendant, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI's direction.

10. The defendant, SCOTT A. ROSKOVSKI, was employed as a detective with the Butler County District Attorney's Office, located in Butler, Pennsylvania, and conducted investigations involving fraud and other financial crimes.

11. The defendant, SCOTT A. ROSKOVSKI, maintained a personal credit card with American Express (hereinafter "AMEX"), with associated account number xxxx1012.

12. The defendant, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI, maintained a personal credit card with AMEX, with associated account numbers xxxx3000 and xxxx4008.

13. The defendant, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI, maintained a personal credit card with DISCOVER, with associated account number xxxx6471.

14. The defendants' son, an individual known to the grand jury and herein identified as "JR", maintained a personal credit card with AMEX, with associated account number xxxx1020.

15. The address assigned to each of the above-listed, personal and BHS credit cards was 102 Dogwood Court, Butler, Pennsylvania 16001.

16. The defendants, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI and SCOTT A. ROSKOVSKI, maintained a joint personal checking account at PNC Bank, account number xxxx3782.

17. The defendants, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI and SCOTT A. ROSKOVSKI, on or about June 4, 2015, purchased an existing motocross business and its associated real property, known as Switchback MX, LLC (hereinafter "Switchback"), a motocross racetrack located at 2469 William Flynn Hwy, Butler, Pennsylvania 16001, for approximately $1.2 million. The Switchback property consisted of approximately 72 acres with three or more outdoor racetracks, a 47,000 square foot, indoor racetrack facility, and wooded trails for dirt bike riders. The defendant, SCOTT A. ROSKOVSKI, was primarily responsible for operating the Switchback business.

THE SCHEME AND ARTIFICE TO DEFRAUD

18. From in and around April 2011, and continuing thereafter until in and around December 2017, in the Western District of Pennsylvania, the defendants, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI and SCOTT A. ROSKOVSKI, devised and intended to devise a scheme and artifice to defraud and to obtain money and property by means of false and fraudulent pretenses, representations, and promises, well knowing that such pretenses, representations, and promises were false and fraudulent when made, which such scheme and artifice to defraud was, in substance, as follows:

19. It was part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that the defendants, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI and SCOTT A. ROSKOVSKI, used STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI's BHS corporate VISA credit card for personal expenditures totaling approximately $504,320. Such personal expenditures included, but were not limited to, family vacations, household furnishings, concert and event tickets, Switchback expenses, and gift cards.

20. It was further part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that the defendant, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI, in keeping with BHS procedures and for the purpose of verifying that expenses incurred on her corporate VISA were business-related, provided the CEO and other BHS personnel with altered, fraudulent, and fictitious receipts, as well as handwritten notes falsely purporting the defendants' personal expenditures were incurred for business-related purposes, such as, "Physician Compensation Book", "conference", "physician recruitment", "physician gifts", "recognition", and "welcome gifts".

21. It was further part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that the defendant, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI, for the purpose of obtaining BHS monies, provided the CEO disbursement request forms on which she falsely purported having personally incurred business expenses, in amounts generally less than $1,000, for which she sought reimbursement.

22. It was further part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that the defendant, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI, after receiving the CEO's approval and signature on said disbursement request forms and prior to submitting said forms to the BHS accounting department for payment, altered the forms by increasing the amount of the disbursement requests and/or by adding additional expenses, and attaching copies of personally issued checks and altered, fictitious, and fraudulent receipts stemming from the use of the defendants' personal AMEX and Discover credit cards and JR's personal AMEX credit card, as well as handwritten notes as supporting documentation, so as to make such disbursement requests appear to be business-related.

23. It was further part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that the defendant, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI, delivered approximately 48 such falsified disbursement request forms to the CEO for approval, and then to the BHS accounting department for payment, triggering the issuance of approximately 48 checks totaling more than $489,000 from the BHS checking accounts, and, in most instances, the mailing of said checks to the defendants, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI and SCOTT A. ROSKOVSKI's residence, for the alleged reimbursement of business-related expenses.

24. It was further part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that the defendants, SCOTT A. ROSKOVSKI and STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI, after receiving said disbursement checks, most of which having been mailed to their residence, deposited said BHS checks totaling more than $489,000 into their joint, personal checking account at PNC Bank.

25. It was further part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that the defendants, SCOTT A. ROSKOVSKI and STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI, used said fraudulently obtained and deposited funds to pay personal expenses, including, but not limited to, the defendants, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI's and SCOTT A. ROSKOVSKI's personal AMEX and DISCOVER credit card bills reflecting personal travel expenses, airline tickets, hair and beauty treatments, home furnishings, among others things; JR's AMEX credit card bills and the purchases reflected therein; mortgage payments and automobile payments; as well as to make ATM cash withdrawals and transfers to personal investment and savings accounts.

26. It was further part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that the defendant, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI, for the purpose of obtaining BHS monies, submitted "Direct Vendor" disbursement request forms to the CEO, for his approval and signature, on which the defendant, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI, falsely represented that she needed funds, in amounts of generally less than $1,000, for the purchase of merchant gift cards to be disseminated at business-related "focus groups", or to be used for "sponsorships" and "marketing incentives".

27. It was further part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that the defendant, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI, after receiving the CEO's approval and signature on said "Direct Vendor” disbursement request forms and prior to submitting said forms to the BHS accounting department for issuance of payment, altered the forms by significantly increasing the amount of the disbursement requests.

28. It was further part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that the defendant, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI, delivered approximately 36 falsified disbursement request forms, to the CEO and to the BHS accounting department, for the purpose of obtaining BHS monies in the form of checks issued from its checking accounts and made payable to various retail vendors, including Home Depot, Lowes, Giant Eagle, Rural King, Staples, Target, and Walmart, among others, as well as made payable to Simon Mall.

29. It was further part of the scheme and artifice to defraud, that BHS, in reliance upon the false and fictitious information provided by the defendant, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI, issued approximately 41 checks from its accounts maintained at NexTier and BB&T to the various retail vendors and to Simon Mall, and either provided said checks to the defendant, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI, or mailed them directly to the vendor, at her request.

30. It was further part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that on or about July 16, 2012, the defendant, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI, having received a BHS “Direct Vendor” check (NexTier check, Number 043559) issued to Simon Mall for $9,500, provided said check to the defendant, SCOTT A. ROSKOVSKI.

31. It was further part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that on various dates between April 2011 and March 2017, either the defendant, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI, or the defendant, SCOTT A. ROSKOVSKI, negotiated and caused to be negotiated the “Direct Vendor” checks for the purchase of merchant gift cards and AMEX and VISA gift cards, totaling approximately $306,000, at various retail establishments and at Simon Mall.

32. It was further part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that the defendants, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI and SCOTT A. ROSKOVSKI, received all gift cards purchased.

33. It was further part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that the defendant, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI, for the purpose of obtaining BHS monies and vendor gift cards totaling $48,000, twice submitted requests by email, in May 2016 and in June 2017, to BHS's Director of Materials Management, in which the defendant, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI, falsely represented that for business-related purposes she needed gift cards, valued individually at $100 and $250, from Home Depot, Lowes, Dick's Sporting Goods, Walmart, Sheetz, and Rural King.

34. It was further part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that the Director of Materials Management, at the defendant, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI's request, obtained $48,000 in vendor gift cards and provided said gift cards to the defendant.

35. It was further part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that the defendants, STEPHANIE J. ROSKOVSKI and SCOTT A. ROSKOVSKI, jointly and individually, used the purchased gift cards for personal expenditures, such as lavish vacations, home remodeling, Switchback equipment repair and give-away prizes, groceries, and fuel, among others, and as gifts for Switchback employees, hair salon employees, and the defendants' housekeeper.
